

The visual content of the super bowl half time was as obscene and inappropriate as anything I have never allowed my children to see. From the crotch grabbing, to the inappropriate lyrics, to the exposed flesh, it was obviously an orchestrated attempt to expose americas young to MTV's perverted idea how we should behave as a culture. we spend billions to protect our children every year, after all we do and all we spend, why would we ever allow this on TV when all america and most of the world is watching. Fine them, regulate them, pull licenses, just make sure I don't ever see that again.
